KaleidoscopeAI™ Launches KAL™, the First AI Growth System Built for Orthodontists, at the 2026 AAO Annual Session

New system helps orthodontic practices get recommended by ChatGPT, Gemini, and Google AI Overviews as patients turn to AI for healthcare decisions

ORLANDO, FL (April 28, 2026) KaleidoscopeAI™ is announcing the launch of KAL™, the first AI Growth System designed specifically for orthodontic practices, at the American Association of Orthodontists (AAO) Annual Session in Orlando. The company is offering complimentary AI Visibility Audits to attending orthodontists.

KAL™ addresses a fundamental shift in how patients find orthodontists. Consumers are increasingly bypassing traditional search engines and asking AI platforms like ChatGPT, Gemini, and Google AI Overviews to recommend providers by name. These AI systems respond with a shortlist of three to five practices, and practices outside those recommendations are never considered.

Healthcare queries now trigger AI-generated answers at a higher rate than any other industry. By December 2025, 88% of healthcare-related Google searches produced an AI-generated overview before displaying traditional results, according to Search Engine Journal.

“Almost 20 years ago, I introduced SEO to the orthodontic industry when most practices did not believe they needed a website. Today, we are at an identical inflection point. AI is now making the recommendation, not Google. The practices that act first will own their markets for years to come. That is exactly what KAL™ was built to do.”

Mary Kay Miller, Founder and CEO, KaleidoscopeAI™

KAL™ evaluates an orthodontic practice's digital presence across 32 checkpoints using a proprietary AI Visibility Score on a scale of 0 to 100. Pre-launch audits found that the average orthodontic practice scores below 40, meaning most practices are largely invisible to the AI tools patients are now using to choose their orthodontist.

Availability

The KAL™ AI Growth System is available immediately. Orthodontists attending the AAO Annual Session can receive a complimentary AI Visibility Audit at the KaleidoscopeAI™ booth #1115. Practices not attending can request a complimentary audit at kaldental.ai/audit/. A detailed media backgrounder with additional data and company history is available at kaldental.ai/press.
